Greenland Kangerlussak 2009

Greenland is a large island and an autonomous territory of Denmark. The island is washed by the Atlantic and Arctic oceans. Most of its surface is covered with ice. The bulk of Greenland's small population lives on a coastline rugged by fjords, where there is no ice. The southwest is especially densely populated. The island is located in the north, partly above the Arctic Circle, so it is characterized by natural phenomena such as the midnight sun in summer and the northern lights in winter.—
